

Foreignerslife is the first event entirely dedicated to the life of foreigners and expatriates in Russia, consisting of exhibition, conferences, workshops. Foreignerslife will take place on the 5th, 6th and 7th of February 2016 at the World Trade Center, Moscow.

We are expecting around 10 000 visitors from more than 50 nationalities. About 150 exhibitors will present their products and services that are aimed at facilitating the life of foreigners Moscow. The sectors include relocation, immigration, legal, financial and other professional services, taxation, security, insurance, healthcare, home services, education (from kindergartens and international schools to language courses), tourism and entertainment.

Among the participants of Foreignerslife are the companies that provide services for the expats, as mentioned above, as well as foreign companies that are interested in entering Russian market.

The visitors of the exhibition will find the answers to all their questions, whether they are looking for wealth management or require advice on Russian legislation, a good medical center with English – speaking staff, which international school to choose for your kids or what to explore on the next vacation in Russia, and so on.

Among the participants of Foreignerslife are the companies that provide services for the expats, as mentioned above, as well as foreign companies that are interested in entering Russian market.

Along with the business part of the event, the visitors will enjoy interactive workshops, degustation of products, kids areas and entertainment and the possibility to network with the expatriate community in Russia.

One of the key features of the exhibition is a forum that will host high profile businessmen and influential representatives of European and Russian political establishment. The speakers will cover most acute current topics with a special emphasis on the life of foreigners in Moscow, such as Current Economical Situation, Global Image of Russia, Security, Business, Education and Culture.

Among the speakers of the forum will be:

- Thierry Mariani, Member of Parliament from France, former French Minister of Transport under Sarkozy administration
- Guy Mettan, Member of Parliament in Switzerland, author of 1000 years of Russophobia
- Gabriel Kotchofa, PhD, Ambassador of Benin
- Konstantin Korishenko, PhD, Former Vice President of the Russian Central Bank
- Nonna Kagramanian, Vice President of Delovaya Rossiya

Taking into consideration the current situation on the international scene, the organizers of Foreignerslife understand the importance of establishing and maintaining the dialogue and between representatives of different countries and nationalities. Therefore we want our exhibition project to be truly international and for this purpose we are collaborating with Chambers of Commerce, with Embassies, culture centers, International Organizations and publishing houses whose target audience are foreigners in Russia.

At the moment we have official confirmation of Russian – British Chamber of Commerce (RBCC), Russian – Norwegian Chamber of Commerce, French – Russian Chamber of Commerce (CCFR), Canadian Eurasian Business Association (CERBA), Association of European Business (AEB), Russian – Portuguese Business Club, Spanish - Russian Business Association (SRBA), Moscow Chamber of Commerce.

The aim of our exhibition is to help our exhibitors to find new clients, and to facilitate and enhance quality lifestyle of the expats by helping them to find answers to all their questions and giving them the possibility to meet and network with the international community in Moscow.
